This photo represents all the many different events, classes, people, activities, groups, teachers, happenings, and memories, especially memories that the Sohiray staff have tried to sort out, organize, and put together so that when you look at the yearbook not a piece will be missing in the "memory puzzle" of the 1982-83 school year. As you can see, the pieces in the picture do not interlock. They are unorganized and disarrayed. The puzzle is incomplete. This is exactly how it was for us throughout most of the year. All the pictures, copies, and ideas were scattered about in our minds as well as on the cluttered table in our little room. But piece by piece and page by page we compiled all the memories into this book, and now I present to you the 1983 Sohiray "Memory Puzzle".

27 years marks retirement for superintendent russell leuthold

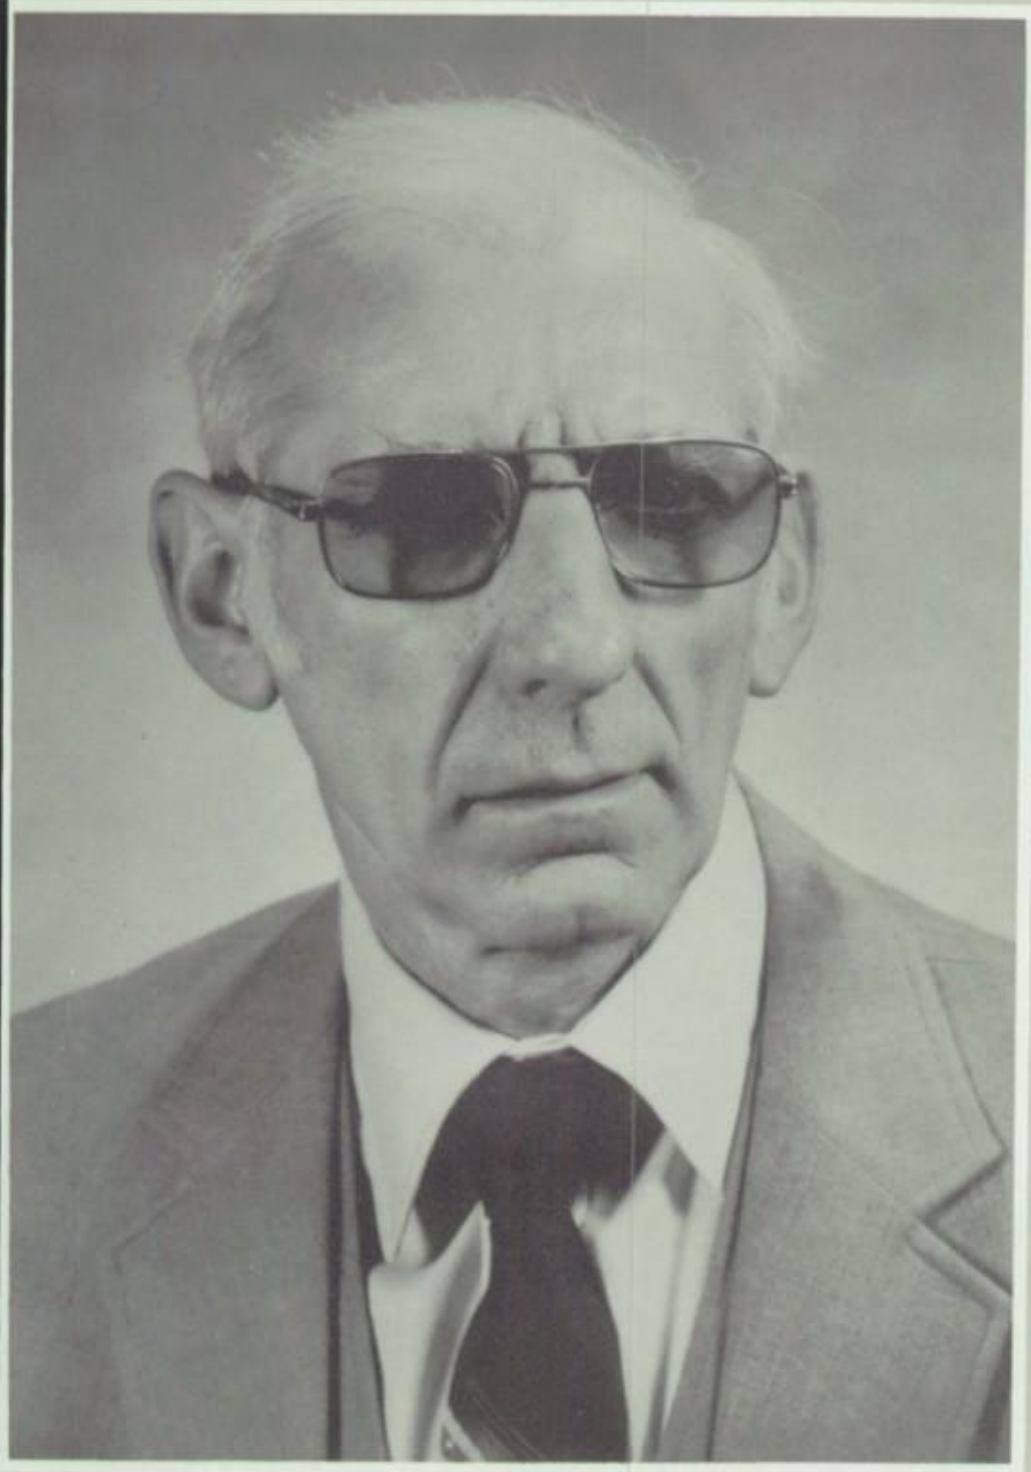
Mr. Russell Leuthold, a native of Bucyrus, taught Sociology and English for 10 years at Fayette and held the position of principal for 8 of those 10 before taking on the role of superintendent at Ayersville.

Looking back on his childhood and high school years, Mr. Leuthold says of himself, "I was a kid in the corner". But he says he went through a total change when he was in college. He held many offices at Ohio Northern such as Yearbook Editor and President of the student council, a bit of a switch considering he was never elected to any position in high school. The fact that he's been a leader of many and varied organizations enables Mr. Leuthold to understand the different facets of school life. This trait has proven to be quite advantageous throughout his administrative career.

His best memories are those of the classroom — associating with students. "Young people today measure up to any era of the past", says Leuthold. He also denies any remark made by others in reference to the poor attributes of today's youth. "I've lived long enough to see 'the good ol' days' over and over".

During retirement, Russ has no special plans to carry out. He hopes to be involved in "people business" and travel a bit. He just likes the idea of being free.

A million thank you's, Mr. Leuthold, for showing up at all the different events in which we students were involved as well as for your administrative qualities you've shared with us.



mylo, 31 year veteran of teaching and coaching, retires after 18 years at ayersville

Mr. Mylo Gerken taught and coached at Florida, Continental, and Tinora schools before settling in Ayersville for what turned out to be the past 18 years of his life.

Some of the most memorable happenings in his career were — Doug Herr, his first trackster to advance to the state finals, taking sixth place in the hurdles, his '75 CC team winning state, the '78 CC team wearing patches on their uniforms in memory of his wife, Linda Bowling enrolling as the first girl in his shop class, winning the county baseball championship 6 years straight when he coached at Continental, and many more.

As a coach, Mylo says "Each coach has his own philosophy, and my ideas and outlooks must have paid off because I've had winning teams". He's had CC teams down to state 12 or 13 times, and back in '64 he had 12 boys in the state track meet at one time. "Coaches probably wish they could have won half as much as I have", says Gerken as he reflects on his many years of coaching.

What lies ahead for Mylo? Well, he's 1 of 3 still in the running for a CC coaching position near Tampa, Florida. He plans to work on his house and do quite a bit of traveling, although he's been practically all over the country. One thing He'd especially like to do is see the summer Olympics in California.

Thank you very much, Mr. Gerken, for giving of yourself in both teaching and coaching. You're right. Everything you've done has paid off.

silver anniversary denotes retirement for june thayer

Mrs. June Thayer taught the fifth grade in Florida, Ohio for 4 years before joining the faculty at Ayersville. Her 21 years spent here were not all in the fifth grade. Mrs. Thayer taught third graders, then fourth, and then third again before her permanent position of teaching fifth graders.

One special memory she has is that concerning a year when she became ill toward the end and wasn't able to finish the school year. Her students called her and wrote her notes and cards asking her to come back. Mrs. Thayer enjoys teaching Math, Social Studies, and English the best. She misses the field trips the classes used to take because they were a form of education that couldn't be extracted from a text book. A word of advice that she gives her students, which could apply to everyone else too, is "Make yourself so that you like yourself because you'll have to spend time alone with yourself".

Mrs. Thayer plans to travel "wherever my pocket-book will carry me — not too far". Florida, Texas, Colorado, and Hawaii are at the top of her list though.

Thank you, Mrs. Thayer, for all the books you read to us and the memories of your rocking chair that we all enjoyed so much.

custodian jim murphy hangs up his mop after 19 years at ayersville

Before coming to Ayersville, Mr. Jim Murphy worked at the Defiance Dairy for 25 years and Brown's Bakery for 9 months. Now, after 19 years as a custodian at Ayersville, Jim has decided to retire — primarily for health reasons.

When he was first hired, Jim didn't expect to stay with his janitorial position, but he says "The job got interesting. So, I thought I'd stick around". What perked his interest was the excitement of his biggest problem — security rounds. Through various encounters, which led to the need of sheriff assistance, he learned a lot about how to help in the catching of trouble makers. Another aspect of his job that encouraged him to stay was watching the elementary kids grow and change through their years at Ayersville.

During retirement he plans to work around the house, perhaps paint it, and put in a sidewalk. Says Jim "I'll just take my own sweet time".

Thank you, Mr. Murphy, not only for being a great custodian, but a good friend too.

From sweet and innocent to strange and crazy!

Introducing the makeover that really makes you stand out.

What d'ya call a kid who can munch like that? You call that kid a cracker-jack.

Does anyone know how to work a stapler?

I told you not to call me Kojak!

Oh dear, I think I sewed the legs together!

graduation marks the end of spoon feeding . . .

Top Junior scholars, Scott and Eve, escort the "Class of 1983".

President Nancy Iler welcomes friends and relatives, and thanks them for attending.

Rev. Kirk Pike delivers an outstanding class message: Don't stand there and gaze. Do something!

Blue sky, warm sun, a slight breeze (well . . . windy) — a bright beautiful day. What more could you ask for . . . except a bright, beautiful future — good luck graduates.

Chris, Mike, and Steve capture their final memories of high school with pictures.

Student Council President, Rachel Dhondt, awards Jim Murphy with a retirement plaque for his many years of service.

A picture may paint a thousand words, but "tacky" is the most prominent word in this one.

Mr. Leuthold congratulates and thanks Mylo for his successful years of teaching and coaching.

B. of E. President, Ray Derricotte, reads the inscription on Mr. Leuthold's retirement plaque honoring his 27 years as Ayersville Superintendent.

Final good-byes . . . or not?

Why the sad faces? You're- graduating!

. . . and the beginning of life in the real world.

Deb Nagel conveys a message concerning the value of success, in her Salutatorian speech.

Salutatorian Heidi Gardner, challenges her class to become builders, not wreckers, of the future.

Ann Schlembach, Valedictorian, explains the tie between risk taking, and success and well roundedness.

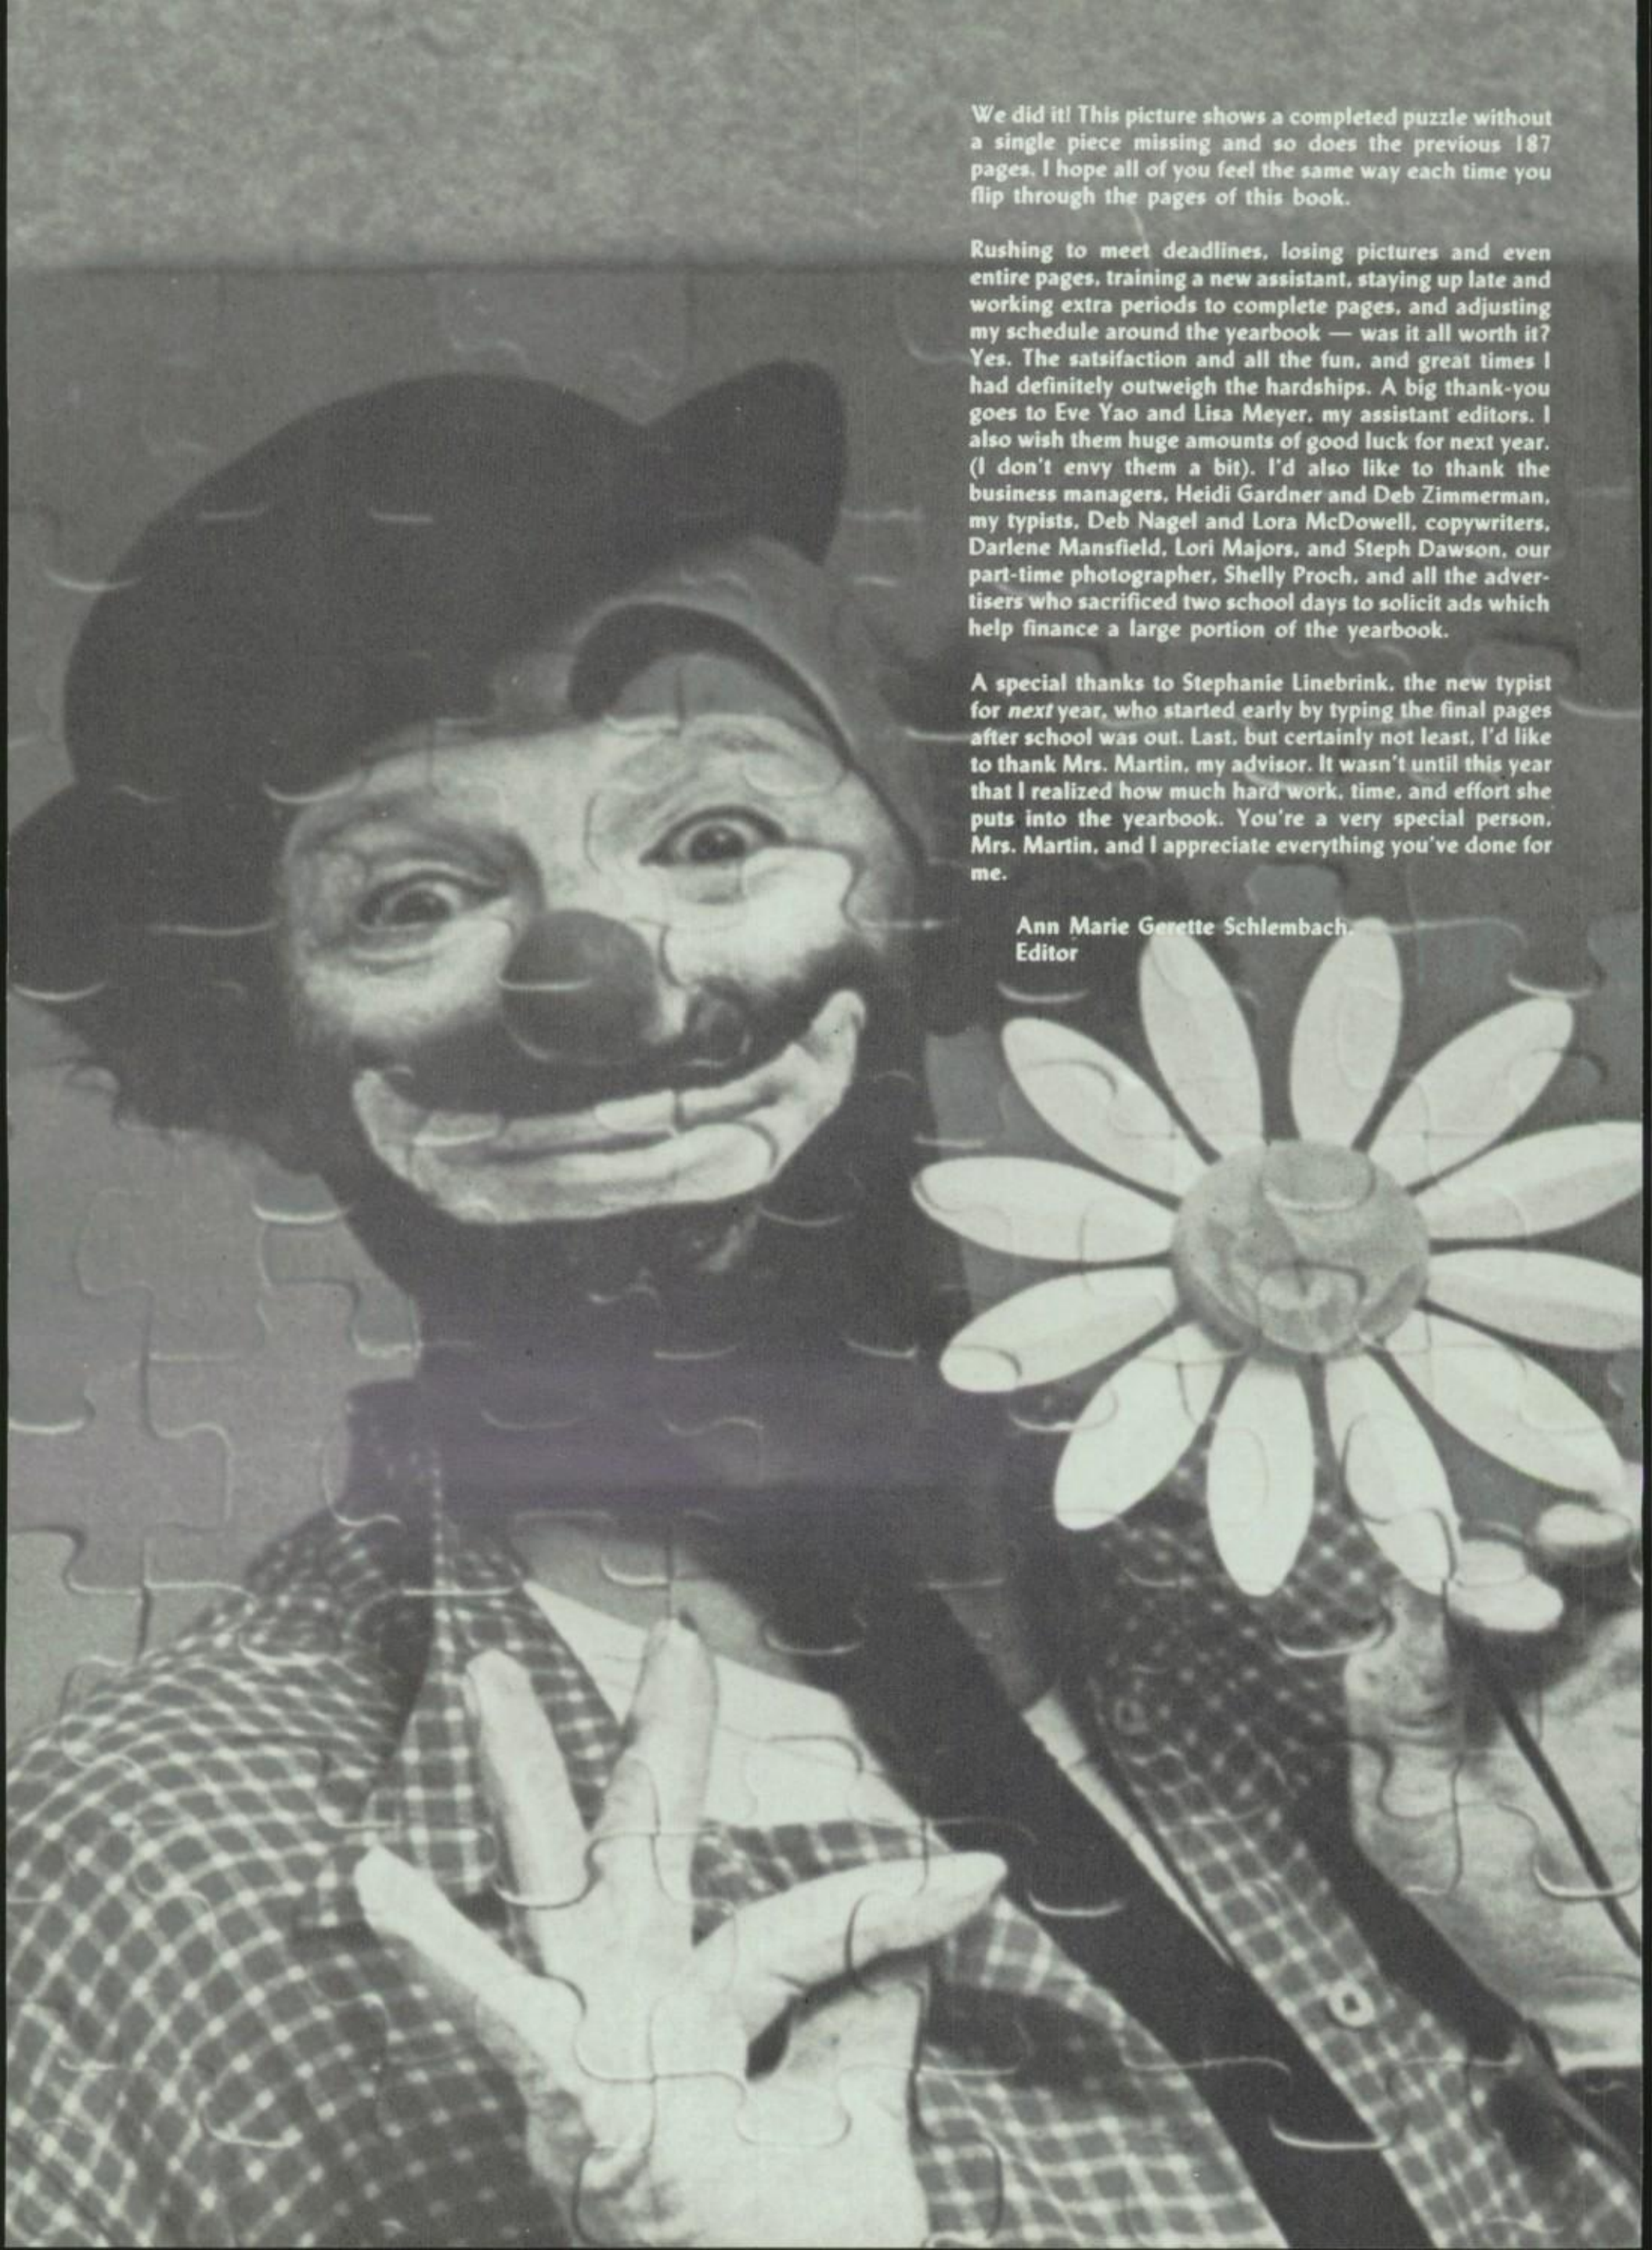
Wow! It moves by itself.

Gee Ann, you came to the prom with Tom, you're dancing with Todd, who are you going to leave with?



We did it! This picture shows a completed puzzle without a single piece missing and so does the previous 187 pages. I hope all of you feel the same way each time you flip through the pages of this book.

Rushing to meet deadlines, losing pictures and even entire pages, training a new assistant, staying up late and working extra periods to complete pages, and adjusting my schedule around the yearbook — was it all worth it? Yes. The satsifaction and all the fun, and great times I had definitely outweigh the hardships. A big thank-you goes to Eve Yao and Lisa Meyer, my assistant editors. I also wish them huge amounts of good luck for next year. (I don't envy them a bit). I'd also like to thank the business managers, Heidi Gardner and Deb Zimmerman, my typists, Deb Nagel and Lora McDowell, copywriters, Darlene Mansfield, Lori Majors, and Steph Dawson, our part-time photographer, Shelly Proch, and all the advertisers who sacrificed two school days to solicit ads which help finance a large portion of the yearbook.

A special thanks to Stephanie Linebrink, the new typist for next year, who started early by typing the final pages after school was out. Last, but certainly not least, I'd like to thank Mrs. Martin, my advisor. It wasn't until this year that I realized how much hard work, time, and effort she puts into the yearbook. You're a very special person, Mrs. Martin, and I appreciate everything you've done for me.
